Background :

Dr. Charles Roland, the first History of Medicine Professor at McMaster University (1977-1998), compiled this collection of oral history interviews, their audiotapes and transcripts, as part of various research projects. They reflect the diversity of his interests in the history of medicine. Among his publications are: An annotated bibliography of Canadian medical periodicals, 1826-1975 , Secondary sources in the history of Canadian medicine: a bibliography , Clarence Hincks: ;mental health crusader , Courage under siege: starvation, disease and death in the Warsaw ghetto, Harold Nathan Segall, cardiologist and historian , and Long night's journey into day: prisoners of war in Hong Kong and Japan. The Chair in the History of Medicine is funded by the Associated Medical Services, Inc.

Content:

There is one accrual.

The collection includes the original audiotapes and typed transcripts of the interviews. In many cases the first draft and the final copy of the interviews are both included in the duotang. Photographs of the interviewees are often included. Additional material such as correspondence is part of some interviews. The audiotapes and transcripts are located separately for convenience. The audiotapes are organized in alphabetical order by surname. The transcripts are organized into 12 subseries:
